

Every organisation has a culture. In most cases, a company's culture is the direct extension of the values and goals of its leadership. At Hope Street, we put effort into ensuring our culture is driven by the values below. They are at the forefront of our decision making, policy writing, and regular daily activities. Through action and relationship we express these values to the children we support, that they may choose to live their lives on a similar foundation.

Hope Street Values

Be Authentic

Be Transparent

Be Innovative

Be Partners

Be Family

Be Informed
